PROFILE

I am a driven and passionate first-year student pursuing an information technology diploma at the University of Moratuwa. I am excited to obtain real-world experience and develop my technical and problem-solving abilities. I'm passionate about innovation, technology, and coding, and I can't wait to put what I learn in the classroom to use in practical settings. In order to advance my career, I'm searching for chances to work on projects and internships. I work diligently, pick things up quickly, and am adaptable to any situation.
